Howdy Folks,

Here is a hint for something you can do to make your life easier.

One of the principles of my work is 'Energy is impressed upon matter.'

Sounds official but what good is it? Let's look at it a bit closer and see if we can find a use for it.

Thoughts and actions are energy and your body is matter. This means that your body is affected by places you have been, people you associated with and events in your life.

Last summer a friend wrote to say he hadn't felt well since attending a high school football game where his grandson was playing.

I checked out the ball field and the fans and found a lot of negative entities had attended the game. Went back in time and de-possessed the crowd and received an email a few hours later that my friend was feeling better.

Think I have told you before that if someone you care about is going into the hospital, be sure to clean the place up. Directions are in 'Energize Your Life' and the new replacement for it called 'Change Energy~~Change Your Life.' Directions are also in 'Techniques That Work For Me.'

What always amazes me is the questions people ask on subjects like this. I will tell folk how to clean up a ball field, players and fans and they will ask be what to do about a car race.

The same principle applies whether it is a hospital, ball game, car race, and especially a rock concert. Cleaned up one of those last week and found 4 demons. So if you or you kids go places like this, protect yourself and clean it up before you or they go.

Certain crowds are worse than others. If you doubt this, do your own research. Check the percent of people possessed at a football game, basketball game and golf game. Check for a piano recital, ballet performance verses a rock concert.

You will likely find a significant difference. This should tell you something.

My old friend Bill Askin whom I wrote about in chapter 8 in 'The Future is Yours' book went to the Spirit world in December and I sure do miss our phone conversations. One of his quotes was 'Your energy is your most valuable asset, don't take it places and get it trashed.' Good advice.

The Canadian Questers asked me to write a tribute to him and wanted to share it with you.

Here it is.

If you are fortunate, you will meet someone who will make a significant positive impact on your life. I was fortunate to meet two of them, Bill and Winnie Askin.

Met them in 1995 in Laredo, Texas at the Silva International Convention. Bill and I were the only people there wearing jeans and cowboy shirts, the rest were in suits and ties. No one seemed to be paying any attention to them so I went over and introduced myself. The rest of the crowd never knew what they missed.

A few months later a letter arrived written on notebook paper with a pencil. It was postmarked from a place I never heard of, High Level, Alberta, Canada. Then followed a phone call and another.....and another.....for seventeen years.

In 1997 my friend Jeff Jones and I went to visit Bill & Winnie and life was never the same after that. Bill & Winnie were the best hosts we could have hoped for. They introduced us to a world we had never seen. Then they came to visit me and I went back to see them twice more, along with other visits to Canada. Faye Henry filmed my first video at their place. These were trips of a lifetime never to be forgotten.

Bill was always wanting to help people have a better life and was responsible for me being invited to Ozark Research Institute as a speaker, which then led to invitations all over North America.

He and Winnie personally bought my first plane ticket to speak at a conference in North West Territories and were responsible for me being a speaker at a number of places in Canada. In appreciation, I wrote a chapter about the experiences with them in my first book., 'The Future is Yours~~Do Something About It.'

Bill and Winnie devoted much of their lives to show people how to have a better life and they seemed to be known everywhere we went in all of Northwestern Canada.

Bill always wanted to talk about energy, and it took some time to grasp what he was talking about. Once it finally sunk in, I passed his knowledge on to people in 142 countries. Doubt that I was ever able to get him to understand the impact he had on me.

Bill had some funny ways of saying things and here are some examples.

One winter Bill and Winnie moved to Southern B.C. and we were talking by phone. When asked about the place they lived, he said they had a kitchen, bedroom and bathroom.

Asked if he enjoyed the convenience of indoor plumbing and he replied. " It is convenient but deprives me of much fresh air."

Seems the mountains of B.C. were a bit different from the flat land where they lived near High Level so Bill called one night and said, "We're going home, I do not care for real estate that stands on end."

We left Yellowknife, NWT and after a few miles, met a car, about an hour passed and we met another one. Bill said, 'Don't know what's causing all this traffic these days, it didn't used to be that way.'

Once when Larry Huszczo and I were visiting he asked if we would go with him to meet some people and talk to them. He was a bit concerned about my appearance and the subject matter. He said, "Now don't go over there and start telling them people about dragging souls out of hell."

As a kid, I read stories of Northern Canada and could only dream about the places. Bill and Winnie showed me the places and made the dream a reality.

So for all of us who knew him, let's remember him well~~~ because I doubt that God ever made another one like him.

And now from FAYE.....

Love is All There Is!

Please read and join us in the new project.

This is a true statement, there is divine love and our awareness that this is what we are.

And there are many levels of not knowing that we are love.

As you get farther and farther away from being the love that you are...other things cover up that love and fill our thoughts. Guilt, sorrow, anger, hatred, all these things cover up the spark of divine love at the core of each human. Some are so mired in the negative emotions that all they can do is lie, cheat, steal, and wage war on those they come into contact with.

You may have noticed that we have a lot of that in our world at the moment. So how is the best way to bring these people back to being the love that they are?

You may have noticed that as a society, we have waged our own wars on many things besides humans...we have a war on drugs, a war on cancer, and a war on war too....fighting for peace.

Have you noticed any success with any of these? I believe it is time to approach this in a different manner.

This was inspired by a lady who wrote Raymon about having a conversation with poison ivy and asking it to die for the sake of the children who walked by it daily. So they would not get poison ivy. And three weeks later, the vine was completely gone. She had been fighting it for some time with poison and the plant was thriving.

Raymon teaches us that energy follows thought, and what we think about we give our energy to and it grows.

So as we hate our governments, and hate the criminals in our cities....they seem to gain more and more power these days.

What if, instead, we started appealing to that spark of love within them and remind them of the love that they are. And do this for ourselves first. Focus on that love and make it grow.

Let's each have a soul to soul talk with our government representatives, in all areas, city, county, state and national levels, in our imagination.

You can do this any way you like. Imagine them all in one form and just talk to them one time as a group, or have a conversation with each one of them. Ask them to look within themselves for the spark of love that is there, and to operate only from that place of love. This will include love, respect, integrity, and honesty.

Ask them to begin to fulfill the duties to which they have been trusted and elected to execute with truth and love and to lookout for the good of all the people they represent today.

If they cannot do this, ask them to please remove themselves from office immediately so they can be replaced with someone who can act in this manner. And then let's see them each day as a being of love and only focus on that spark and make it grow. This reminds me of what I call the Jesus prayer. Asking that each person be made whole, and if they do not choose to be made whole, that God nurture them at their deepest level of need.

So we would ask you to join us in the new project.

Have the conversation with them one time, then each day just ask that all politicians and criminals be made whole, and if they do not choose to be made whole, that they be nurtured at their deepest level of need. And as you ask this, see them as a being of love.

See yourself this way too...and watch the violet flame of love grow within everyone on Earth. This is the way to lasting peace on Earth.

When focus on everyone as Love and watch it grow.

When I speak of love, I am not talking about emotional love as in “falling in love”, or being “in love”. I am speaking of the Divine Love of God, Creator, Great Spirit, whatever you want to call the Creator Being.

The energy of this being is very high in vibration, it is Divine Love. And it encompasses all things. We are the expression of that love, or lack thereof....so let's see everyone being the pure expression of Divine Love each day and create that on Earth now.

If this resonates with you, please join with us and make this happen. Email me at faye@tsvibrations.com with any results you see in your life, your city, county, and country as you do this. Ask your friends to join in....

Raymon had done some baseline dowsing to see where we are now and we will keep a check on it and let you know about our progress. Do this yourself and let us know what you get also. This has been added to the projects site at
